Brighton, Michigan

Dedication

George Prieskorn, ended nine years of teaching in the Brighton school system in 1968. He graduated from Brighton High School in 1953 and graduated from Michigan State in 1957. He was in the U.S. Army from 1958-1960, and was a First Lieutenant in the Artillery.

Mr. Prieskorn started teaching in February of 1960, at the junior high school. He then taught in the high school from the fall of 1960 thru 1968.

He was assistant football coach in 1960-1961, head football coach from 1962-1967, and, in 1967-1968, attendance officer and athletic director. Besides being a football coach, Mr. Prieskorn taught trigonometry, science, chemistry, senior math, and geometry, during his years of teaching. For all nine years he was the golf coach. In 1967-1968 year, Mr. Prieskorn's golf team placed second in the state.

His many accomplishments have won him great esteem both among the students and within his community. We dedicate this book to Mr. Prieskorn, as a tribute to his devoted years.

English

The words research paper, grammar, poetry, and vocabulary are often associated with the English department. There is also another side to English. English opens the door to many exciting subjects, such as short stories, biographies, novels, humanities, independent studies, Biblical literature, poetry, and authors, and creative writing.

All of these classes are an insight into English, but each of a different nature.

Dramatics

There's more to play acting than just self-expression. In dramatics class students make character analysis of their part in the cast. A play isn't composed just of actors. Stage effects also play an important role.

Forensics, Speech, and Debate

Getting up in front of people to give a formal speech is difficult. Yet, in today's society being able to speak well is a must. You have to be able to get your point across precisely. This may be done in the delivery of your speech of argument, if it is done properly. No one enjoys a boring lecture or speech.

Yearbook Staff

Not many people realize that work goes into making a yearbook. We are generally forgotten until the school year ends and people realize that it is an annual production. It is hard work, but very enjoyable at times. We work our hardest to present to the school a memory of the past year and its happenings.

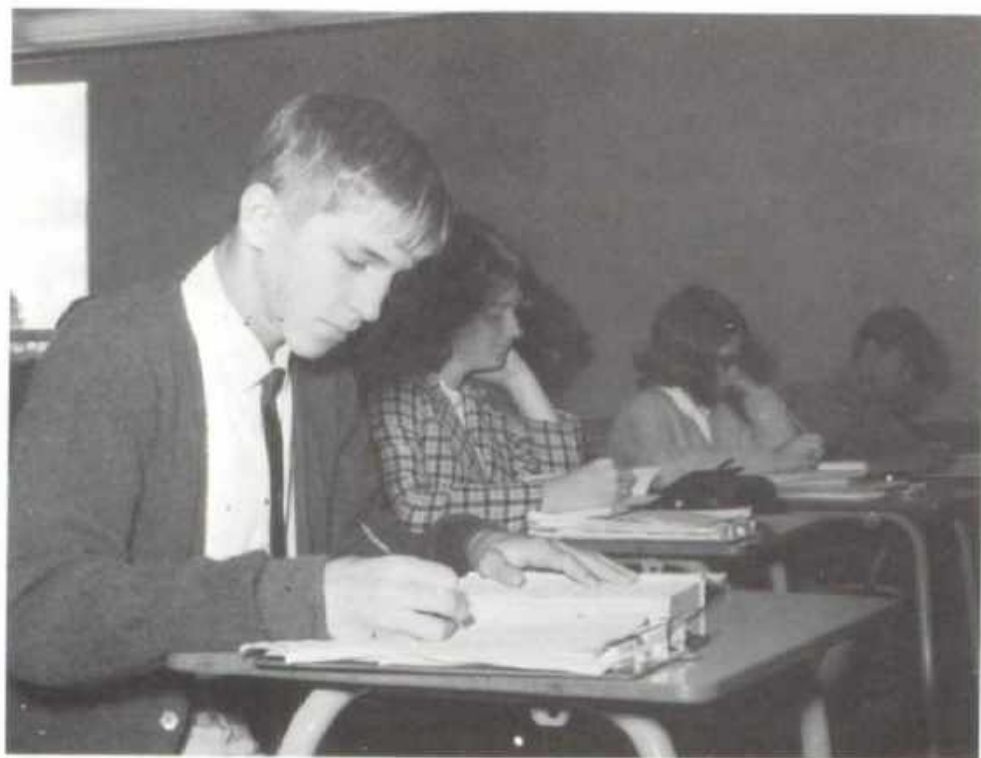

Foreign Languages

A foreign language can be mysterious and enjoyable. The class becomes much more interesting when the teacher mixes the memorization of irregular verbs, with the country's culture. It's hard work, but it is very rewarding. You not only learn how to speak the language, but you have a better understanding of the country.

Mathematics

A mathematics course requires constant attention and concentration on the part of the student. The way the problem is done as well as the answer is important. Specific answers are often the result of logical thinking and application of previously learned theories. In today's world there is a great demand for the use of mathematics.

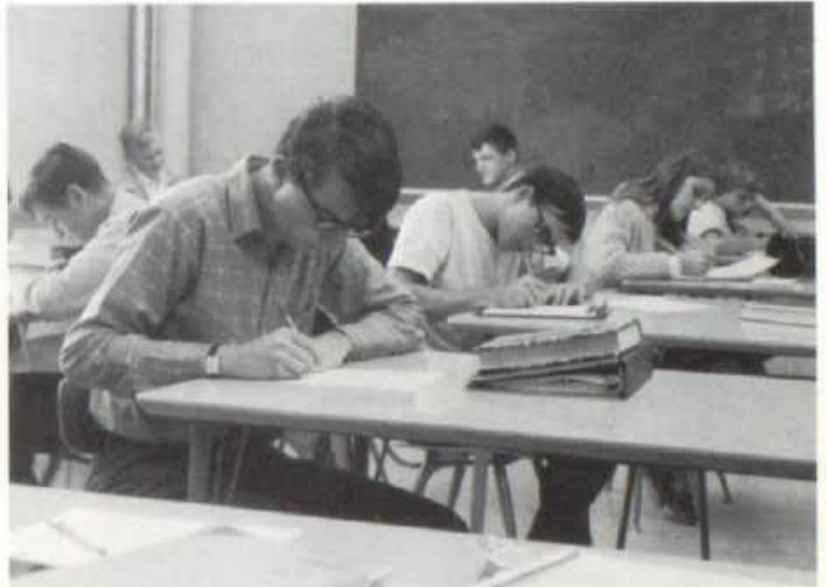

Social Studies

Discussing the problems of today's society has been one of the first and foremost concepts in this year's social studies program. Being that today's youth shoulders a greater part of the responsibility in this country, it is pertinent that he should learn WHY he is doing this. Social studies enables him to do so. In a world of turmoil, as this world is today, a good discussion with a teacher and a group of students can be educational as well as inspirational.

Sciences

The first general thought of a science course is of long and boring lectures that seem complex. You must have lectures to gain knowledge, but it doesn't stop there. You learn what various things are, why they are, and why they act as they do. You experiment to confirm a theory and also to discover. Science classes are not always easy, but they play a prominent role in today's world.

Home Economics

Girls and boys alike were able to participate in the Home Economics classes this year. The girls were advancing their skills in cooking, sewing, interior decorating, while an introductory course in cooking was offered to boys interested in testing their gourmet talents. These classes are obviously beneficial in preparing students for future years.

Crafts, Ceramics, and Fundamental Arts

Creativity is the key word for all of these classes. All involve working with your hands to express ideas. These classes also give you a chance to express yourself.

Industrial Arts

Following a blueprint or sketching a model requires skill and patience. Many students realize this as they participate in related classes. These classes are fun sometimes, but they also require concentration.

Industrial Arts

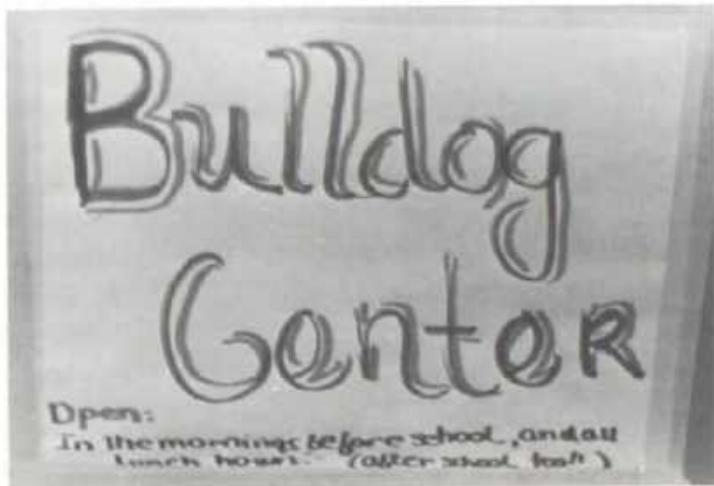

Commercial Arts

In today's world it is the secretary or the one who has had business training, that makes the points. An efficient secretary usually starts her training in high school. From typing I, she advances to office practice, shorthand, and book-keeping.

Not only girls train for these professions. Young men are also a valuable asset in the business world. Subjects such as retail sales, merchandizing and business law, give an insight into secretarial jobs.

Commercial Arts and Distributive Education

A must in the business world today, is the knowledge of retail and merchandise. Students have realized that knowing sales techniques are just as important as practical applications. This year is the first year for the Bulldog Center. It has been a great success.

Fine Arts

Fine Arts

Marching in the band or going to a concert, is all part of a fine arts course. It really isn't as boring as it sounds. Of course, there are many things to band and choir than that, which are more fun. When participating in side activities, a person would almost have fun and learn something, also.

Physical Education

Besides learning, our school system is concerned about physical fitness. The course is no longer boring or routine, because our physical education teachers have added extensions to their courses. Students no longer dread that class, but look forward to it.

Activities

Homecoming Football Game

Football has its greatest day when Homecoming rolls around. Spirit and enthusiasm were at the peak. The Bulldogs practiced all week long with only one thought on their mind--victory. They came close with hostile and desire. Even though victory eluded them, their determination helped make Homecoming a success.

Homecoming

Homecoming is one of the biggest events of the year. For the entire week preceding it, school spirit is at the highest level. It was demonstrated by such things as school color day and the parade the day of the game.

Half time exhibited the floats again; the band and the queen and her court were presented. The Grand Marshal of the parade, presented the trophy, for the winning float, to the Senior Class President.

Homecoming Parade
 The rain stopped and the sun came out. What could have been disaster, turned into a beautiful procession of floats, attendants, and the queen. Passers-by, stopped in amazement as they heard and saw the sight before them. The floats were a success.

Throughout the 1968-69 season, our coaches have exhibited a type of spirit that has driven our teams' morale right to the top. Win or lose, our coaches have been right there behind the team. The coaching ability of these fine men just can't be found anywhere else. The long hours that these men have spent away from their homes and families are irreplaceable and the debt which we owe these men is insurmountable.

Football

This year's football team was plagued by injuries. But the team struggled on, even when the J.V. squad joined the Varsity team. Their spirit never quit, no matter how far behind they were. This year, two of our Varsity players were elected to the county football team. All in all, the school was proud to be represented by such a great team.

Wrestling

K. Kaiser, M. Keckonen, B. Hickman.

One of the newest sports added to Brighton High School is our wrestling team. They have made us very proud of them again this year. All of their efforts have not been in vain, shown by the medals and ribbons that they have won. They were the only team this year to have a winning season in the league. Miles Vieau placed first in the district and league. He was third in the regionals. Miles tied fifth in the state wrestling finals.

Basketball

Experience is the best teacher with any basketball team. This is quite evident with some of the players that we have again this year. A good basketball player does not come easy; he must work at perfecting his skill. Good sportsmanship, athletic ability, grade eligibility, and a desire to represent his school is all part of a good player. The team's spirit and sportsmanship have been boundless.
